[illegible]

TUESDAY, APRIL 6, 1920.

[illegible]

Some of the common arguments against the league of nations are set forth in the New York Tribune. Consequently the Tribune's plea, if granted in the form requested, would deny all of that paper or any common sense argument more than a cursory glance. Perhaps the editorials are to blindness to be sought in the columns that Tribune printed 31 columns on 31 pages from the New York Times. In one of the articles the New York Times gave a graphic description of [illegible] anniversary celebration in Utah, while the Chicago papers were only concerned with an humble day in a cemetery.

The election of grain in Chicago elevators and afloat last Saturday evening were 1,000,000 bushels of wheat, 1,000,000 bushels of corn, 1,000,000 bushels of oats, 270,000 bushels of rye, and 120,000 bushels of barley. Total, 11,000,000 bushels of all kinds of grain, against 11,000,000 bushels a year ago. For the week ends the Secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade says the visible supply of grain in the United States was Tuesday as 30,700,000 bushels of wheat, 31,000,000 bushels of corn, 7,000,000 bushels of oats, 1,000,000 bushels of rye, and 1,000,000 bushels of barley. These figures are smaller than the corresponding week a year ago by 44,000 in wheat and 27,000 in corn. The visible supply of wheat for the corresponding week a year ago the amount 000,000 bushels.

Queer doings in Chicago at 6:37 per cent. There was but little demand for load securities. New York exchange was firm as ever in its quiet practice. Long sterling rose to 4.37 in the open market. There was an active grain market, with [illegible] and Kansas Pacific simultaneously weak. The Chicago [illegible] became very unsteady week end without a single winner of trading. The latest grade were about the lowest of the day. Wheat for May was the weakest article, being hammered by the selling end of small [illegible] that were held by "natives," but part was also early heavy. The completion with Saturday pork closed at about lower, lard 10 cents lower, after 10 cents lower, ribs 5 cents lower for May and 15c more lower for July, were 5c most lower, and [illegible] 5c most lower, barrel and then [illegible] easily.

I see it might be inferred from the article which was printed in yesterday's Tribune on the prevalence of the scale that the Australian dominion applies only to the three gate that from the breeding places, it should be clearly stated that it applies to the whole of Saturday's list, as given, to be by treaty, and that the Government is interested that these Canadian provisions shall not still be made to the breeding season when the breeds view which is law [illegible]. We state the right of [illegible] actively have action from the court of the said Ottawa, but entirely within the legislative matters of the day, which, by the way is an entirely different committee from that of Alaska, who originally claimed to be southwestern of [illegible] on the North Pacific, north of the fifty-five degree of latitude, as a closed sea. It is the latter part of a five-treaty from Saturday's Globe to the most western provinces [illegible] that we state, under the treaty, but to this should see no purpose to protect the seals.

A late Chancellor of the exchequer in which Republicans are shocked out of their rights to the Senate to shorten to the story told by a defeated refugee from Weber County, Georgia, named Gilmore. Last September and October he contracted to organize Democratic clubs, but upon pain of personal violence was compelled to desist. One day of October he was at his precinct, but the judges refused to receive the votes of colored men until late in the day. The polls were about to close when he marched by a mixed of forty rioters. Though a stranger and within the limit time on ballot, but few to eight. In point of fact all sufficient vote furnished by the judge and the votes were deposited in it. They were subsequently counted upon a plea for irregularity and the court "ruled" that votes written across the body of [illegible] were void. A few days afterward, when a new Democratic club was organized to challenge the votes of the [illegible], he swore registrar appointed and swore him from his home. On the November and successful ringing clubs were organized and a reign of terror was instituted by that county. Gilmore himself sought refuge in Atlanta, and his friends have been silenced by the Western Union Telegraph Company has been put down to that county which may goes to show that Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana do not monopolize all the methods of fraud and violence. This is but a single case, moreover, and may not seem to be on the best authority and to a fair impression of Southern methods.

The union of the Rock Park Virginia to bring the waters thereof for the [illegible] year at $1,000 is but another instance of the duty of public servants with a certain [illegible] to respect that figure as the right and proper minimum. What Rock Park has done before, a wrongly Democratic town with one of the best progressives of the municipalities of Illinois, not wrong, [illegible] Other places throughout the State have gone above the $600 minimum of the law. Evanston and Decatur touch $800. Some have gone to $1 a thousand, like Rockford, and some beyond to the limited standing. Where one local sentiment may not bring enough to justify prohibition, four have elected a large [illegible]. Missouri, Kansas, and Minnesota, to look beyond the bodies of [illegible] have voted on it, and in the public favor the [illegible] and Pennsylvania has gone over [illegible].

The good wishes of the editor of the New York Tribune are sent most [illegible] to [illegible] a head of the second [illegible] to [illegible]. On the business and not politics [illegible] to support the present [illegible]. But the [illegible] with which it [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

WHAT THE WEATHER WILL BE TODAY

(Little Pat)—Why, mamma, are you sick?
(Mamma)—No, dear; only tired; been shopping all day.
(Little Pat)—O, I know; you're what they call "shopworn."

Few women can long stand the exertion of continuous shopping, while aimlessness, nervousness, tiredness, and overworked women generally, break down by thousands each year and are forced to quit work on account of nervous prostration, sick headache, weak back, female weakness, and other kindred derangements. It is fortunate, however, that Dr. Pierce has given to suffering women his "Favorite Prescription," the result of many years' practice in diseases of females, and the only remedy which is warranted to give satisfaction, or money refunded. The certificate of guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper and faithfully carried out for many years.

WEARERS OF CLOTHING

The smallest unit known of a perfect fitting garment is intermediate to worlds. After measuring it to have no clothing that does not fit the body, wrap down in front with a baggy bag about the shoulders and neck. All of these articles are necessary in order to get WILDE'S fitter Suits and Overcoats. Unless we can measure you and put you in WILDE'S clothes we do not pretend to have one more suited to the occasion.

All of these boys we found Suits fitting overcoats, with a little taking, accommodating coats, etc., with a very practical knowledge of a new spring garment. Now we will not be satisfied until we have the opportunity of a fitting.

The $15 Spring Overcoats have brought more young men to our store than ever before. We handled it double. One of these garments is a beautiful wide-wale, light-blue Cheviot, at $15. Wide Wale, Blue Worsted, at $15. Cashmere Worsted, at $15. Fancy Cheviots, at $15. Silk lined throughout.
